MURDER CHARGES TO BE FILED IN PREWETT KILLING

Seven Persons Placed in Jail At Chickasha to Await Probe.

TWO UNDER CHARGES

Pair Wanted in Kansas on Charges of Jail Breaking.

(By the Associated Press)

CHICKASHA, Feb. 7.—Charges of murder will be filed against Henderson and Daniels, two of the seven men arrested in Texas in connection with the slaying near Blanchard last month of W. H. Prewett, traveling salesman of Oklahoma City. Sheriff Sankey of Grady county arrived today with the prisoners after a round about trip to prevent possible action by Texas officers because he did not have extradition papers for the men. These two men and three others will be held in jail here, according to the county attorney, until a complete investigation has been made. If enough evidence is not found against them to prosecute, he added, they will be returned to Fredonia, Kansas, where they are wanted on a charge of jail breaking.

Officers indicated that the seven arrests may lead to the clearing up of other mysterious cases, possibly throwing light on the disappearance of John Thomas, whose abandoned auto was found near Oklahoma City recently.

Auto theft charges will also be placed against Henderson and Daniels, it was said. They are alleged to have made off with Prewett's machine after throwing this body into a ravine. The auto was found last week at a farm house near Breckenridge, Texas, where the men are alleged to have stopped.

Personnel of Party.
The following is the personnel of the party now being returned to Oklahoma by Sankey, who is acting in greatest secrecy and without the formality of obtaining extradition papers.

Walter Henderson, alias Jack Henderson, 24 years old, former inmate of the prison at Fredonia, Kan., who escaped a few days before the murder of Prewett.

Pearl Duffield, "Whiz Bang Red," 26 years old, wanted in Pawhuska, Okla., for bond jumping and for the alleged theft of a fur coat from a dance hall. She is wearing the coat on this trip that she is alleged to have stolen. She is the sweetheart of Henderson.

Bond an Escaped Convict.
Glen Bond, 21 years old, also an escaped convict, from the Fredonia Kan., institution.

Orie Daniels, escaped from Fredonia prison, believed to have been the man who was with Henderson when Prewett was slain.

Ray Bond, 19 years old, brother of Glen Bond.

Glennie Bond, 35 years old, a sister of Daniels and stepmother to the Bond boys.

Mabel Johnson, 26 years old, Juanita Johnson, one and one half years old, daughter of Mabel Johnson.

South American Republics Sign Peace Agreement

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—A treaty of peace and amity between the Central American republics, was signed today by their plenipotentiaries at the Pan-American Union building. Secretary Hughes congratulated Guatemala, Salvador, Nicaragua, Honduras and Costa Rica at the close of the negotiations and assured them of the continued friendship of the United States toward her neighbors.

The head of the delegations returned his greetings and expressed their confidence that their deliberations would bring about the desired results.

STRUCK DUMB AND SHORT OF BREATH

Col. William A. Littauer, snapped when he was told court had dismissed his suit to prevent marriage of his daughter.

Col. William A. Littauer, wealthy Washington resident, has appealed the decision of the Paris courts which dismissed his recent suit to prevent the marriage of his daughter, Catherine Louise, to William E. Doellier, auto dealer. The court ruled that as Miss Littauer was an American girl the French law demanding sanction of the girl's father did not apply in her case. The couple cannot marry until the appeal is disposed of.

TO START PROBE IN OSAGE FRAY

Deputy Killed When Attempt to Disarm Skiatook Marshals Made.

(By the Associated Press)

TULSA, Feb. 7.—Tulsa county officers are today investigating the trouble at Skiatook yesterday between two Osage county deputies and two marshals of Skiatook which resulted in the killing of Bud Collins and W. J. Supernaw, Skiatook marshal, seriously wounded. Charges will be filed when the investigation has been completed, officers said.

All four men are old residents of Skiatook and the trouble is said to have resulted when Collins and Ellis attempted to disarm the two marshals in retaliation for throwing Sunday night. Prior to the firing of the fatal shots Ellis is said to have stated that he was going to look into some trouble reported from there and had deputized Collins to go with him.

W. P. Cox, a teamster, was an eye witness to the affray and saw the marshals when accosted by Ellis and Collins, but does not know who fired the first shot.

President Harding Changes Plans for War Debt Report

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Changing his plans at the last minute President Harding decided to present in person his message asking modification of debt funding law in order to permit approval of the funding agreement negotiated with Great Britain. It was announced at the White House that he would appear before a joint session of the senate and house at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

In addition to asking modification of the funding law the president is said to have decided to make another request in his message that the administration plan be acted on before the present congress goes out of existence on March 4.

Plot Against Italian Regime

ROME, Feb. 7.—As a result of numerous arrests during the past week the police say they have uncovered evidence of a vast plot for the overthrow of the existing government.

GIBBONS NAMES FIVE TO PROBE STATE SCANDAL

Ali Phases of Release of Wealthy Negro From Prison Slated

FIGHT DIES IN HOUSE

Physical Encounter Narrowly Averted When Solons Wrangle.

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 7.—Murray Gibbons, speaker of the house, announced shortly before the convening of the house today at 1:30 that he would appoint a committee at once to investigate the release under guard of Xenophon Jones, wealthy Muskogee negro, serving a sentence in the penitentiary for manslaughter. He said the committee would be instructed to meet late today for organization for a thorough investigation as provided by the Disney-Berry resolution adopted yesterday.

He said the committee will be as follows: Paul Stewart, Joe Gulgager, J. M. Thompson, James Dyer and Joe O'Brien.

Gibbons said the committee would be empowered to employ an attorney and would go into all phases of the matter requested by the resolution passed by the house. The speaker also said that the authorship of the resolution would also be investigated.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 7.—Fierce opposition to Gov. Walton's attitude in the matter of granting a leave of absence to Xenophon Jones blazed high in the lower house yesterday, but today had burned itself to glowing coals. No further developments are expected until an investigating committee has made a report. The committee will be named by Speaker Murray Gibbons in accordance with the Disney-Berry resolution.

Action on the resolution followed yesterday the receipt of a special message from the governor in which he characterized the resolution as "ill advised," and informed the house that he intended to exercise his prerogative of executive clemency as he saw fit and had no apology to make for his action.

A stormy debate preceded the adoption of the resolution demanding an investigation. A physical encounter between Representative Disney of Muskogee, author of the resolution, and J. R. Rossiter, majority floor leader was averted only by the quick action of the sergeant at arms and other members. The majority leader declared that when any one was so suspicious that money had passed in a matter of this kind it appeared that he knew more about it than he cared to tell.

MOONSHINERS ESCAPE IN WHOLESALE FEDERAL RAID

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—One man is in a hospital with a bullet wound in his head and his two score companions still at large following a three hour gun battle with 15 prohibition enforcement officers near Walnut, Maryland. The wounded man refused to give his name before lapsing into unconsciousness.

In the raid the officers captured three stills, one of 1,000 gallons capacity and a great quantity of corn whiskey after the defenders had taken to the woods when their ammunition was exhausted. This said to be one of the largest seizures yet made and these stills are thought to have been the chief source of supply for Washington bootleggers.

Teachers Arrive for Meet

DEBT PLAN GETS HIGH APPROVAL

Harding Requests Congress to Approve British Debt Funding Plan.

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—President Harding laid the British debt agreement before congress today for its approval. Immediately afterwards bills giving the approval were introduced in both house and senate and the leaders of the two houses said they would speed their passage.

The senate managers indicated that it was first planned to put the administration shipping bill ahead of the debt approval bill in that end of the capitol, but despite the personal appeal of the president for action before March 4, it is probable that the debt approval will be disposed of first.

In his address to the senate and house Harding declared that there was time to complete the consideration of both measures, and that both were imperative to public interests. Senate leaders knowing the extent of the opposition to the shipping bill fear to undertake its passage before the other matter is disposed of, leaving it to take its chances.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Congressional approval of the war debt agreement negotiated between the United States and Great Britain was requested today by President Harding, who characterized it as an "object lesson to the world in the validity of contracts."

Coupled with this request delivered in person before a joint session of the two houses, was another in favor of the administration shipping bill, saying it is as important to avoid loss as it is to secure the collection of debts. There is ample time, he said, for action on both measures before the present congress goes out of existence March 4.

The president made no recommendation as to the form of action to be taken by congress on the British debt agreement, leaving it to the leaders of congress to decide what move should be taken in the matter of effecting a consummation of the agreement reached by the two commissions.

French Take Over Another City on Rhine, Reports Say

(By the Associated Press)

ESSEN, Feb. 7.—The German information bureau announced that the French have occupied Lennep, a Rhinish textile city as well as two smaller towns nearby.

According to this same source this is evidently part of an encircling movement which will include Eber-sole, another textile center. Lennep is 22 miles southeast of Dusseldorf and produces steel and iron as well as textiles.

BIG DELEGATION ATTEND MEET OF STATE TEACHERS

Estimated 160 Teachers of City and County to Attend Meet.

TWENTY FROM COLLEGE

College Faculty Members and County Teachers on State Program.

Approximately 160 teachers in Ada and Pontotoc county schools, inclusive of the Normal faculty, will attend the annual state teachers conference at Oklahoma City when the convention is officially opened to the educators of the state.

Because of the short distance to the convention center, it is thought that Pontotoc county will send one of the largest delegations to the meeting.

A. Floyd, superintendent of county schools estimated that approximately 100 teachers from rural and schools outside the city of Ada would attend the conference. Allen, Stonewall, Roff and other towns in the county have all expressed the intention of sending large delegations.

E. Hickman, superintendent of city schools, stated that while only 43 teachers out of the city schools have listed as delegates to the state meeting, others will probably swell this number and make the city attendance over 50.

Twenty members of the Teacher College faculty will attend the conference, according to Dr. A. Lind-scheid, president of the college. This number will represent every department of the school.

Take Part in Program.
Three members of the College faculty will have important numbers on the program of the conference, according to the announcement today.

R. R. Robinson, head of the department of education at the College, is scheduled for an address before the assembly on the general theme of instruction to teacher students. Paul Myers, instructor in foreign languages, is also slated for an address. Miss Alice Francisco, head of the home economic department, will have a prominent part in the program.

Prof. John Zimmerman, head of the correspondence department, will deliver an address to the instructors in English.

Mrs. Ruth Carter, college registrar, will act in an official capacity at the conference, serving as a registrar for the state teachers.

A. Floyd, superintendent of county schools, will address the rural school department of the conference on the theme, "Relation of the school-board and the county superintendent." Mrs. H. F. Felix, of the high school faculty, will have a part on the program.

The principal delegation of Ada and Pontotoc county teachers will leave for Oklahoma City Thursday afternoon. Classes at the college and high school will be dismissed noon Thursday in order to allow the delegates an early start.

Special reduced fares were mailed teachers of the city and county schools.

State Commissions on Railroads Plan Meeting on Rates

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—The state railroad commissions of Missouri, Illinois, Minnesota, Nebraska, Montana, South Dakota, Kansas, Iowa, Oklahoma and Texas have agreed to meet with the Interstate Commerce Commission for an investigation to determine whether the minimum car load weights now fixed by the railroads in interstate shipments are reasonable.

It was announced today that the preliminary hearings would be held at Kansas City beginning March 20 and that representatives of the state commissions and of the Interstate Commerce Commission would be in attendance.

WOMAN LEGISLATOR URGES STRICTER MARRIAGE LAWS

Mrs. C. B. Simmons.

Mrs. C. B. Simmons, Portland, Ore., clubwoman recently elected to the state legislature, has introduced a bill requiring all applicants for marriage license to undergo a physical and mental examination by competent physicians. Failure to pass the required tests would preclude the issuance of a license to marry.

U.S. 3-MILE ZONE NOT TRUE LIMIT

Authority Claims Three-Mile Limit Matter of Coast Defense.

(By the Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Feb. 7.—The three mile limit off the coast of the United States was a purely arbitrary and fictitious limitation which has been made obsolete by modern invention, according to a statement by Dr. Clarence T. Wilson of Washington, of the Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals of the Methodist Episcopal church, made public here today.

"When the doctrine was written by Byrneschoek," says the statement, "the extreme range of a shore cannon was three miles and as a sovereign nation can only claim to exercise jurisdiction which he is in fact able to police and defend, the three-mile limit was supposed to be the logical boundary of national authority."

"Today the extreme range of a cannon on shore is certainly not less than twenty miles and might, in fact, be very much greater. The United States should assert and maintain the doctrine that it has the right to defend itself by any necessary means against attacks upon its laws which constitute nothing less than a form of warfare."

"Run running vessels have repeatedly congregated off the New Jersey coast outside the three mile limit. If necessary in order to handle the situation, United States Destroyers should be ordered to capture or destroy any run running ship which approaches close enough to the American shore to establish contact."

"At this time the American people cannot be expected to be patient with far fetched legal technicalities. The American people have always known the answer to insult or injury. The Government should make that historic answer and it can be best spoken from the throats of naval guns."

Legion Prepares for Annual Play to be Given Here

The Normas Howard Post, American Legion will turn stage director again.

Members of the Ada post are beginning in their preparation for the presentation of their "Girl from Yonder" to the theatre goers of Ada.

The success of the play is generally predicted by all who have witnessed Legion plays of the past.

Although the date of the play or the place where it is to be offered has not been announced, Legionnaires are forging ahead with early preparations.

The present selection of characters roles for the play include: Gib Polly, Bill Coffman, Charlie Johnson, Jim Keltner, Robert Chaffin, Fred Schrieber, Mrs. Fred Schrieber, Mrs. J. H. Patton, Mrs. Ruth Carter and Miss Irene Rushing.

ALLIED CRUISERS ORDERED VACATE TURKISH WATERS

Foreign Commissions Protest Against Stringent Steps of Turks.

NO RELIEF PROMISED

No Definite Understanding is Reached From Long Conference.

(By the Associated Press)

LAUSANNE, Feb. 7.—Ismet Pasha and other members of the Turkish delegation to the peace conference left for Angora today. A secretary was left behind to look after such matters as needed attention. Several journalists accompanied the Turks.

George Tchitcherine, Russian foreign minister, will leave tonight for Moscow.

Thus after 79 days of discussion in an effort to establish peace in the Near East and restore Turkey to the "comity of nations," nothing definite has been accomplished. However, no one apparently wants war and no effort will be spared to prevent a renewal of hostilities.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Feb. 7.—The Turks notified the foreign commissions in Constantinople that after today no foreign war ships of more than 1,000 tons would be allowed at Smyrna and no two war ships of any one nation permitted to remain.

Allied high commissioners protested against the order but without result. A conference was held by the commanders of the various fleets and Admiral Nicholson of the British fleet was ordered to proceed to Smyrna. The commissions and fleet commanders are said to be in favor of disregarding the order by the Turks. It would force the American destroyers to leave, as they are of more than the tonnage specified.

PARIS, Feb. 7.—The French government is troubled over the extreme nationalist action by the Angora government. It is feared that with the return of Ismet Pasha and the other delegates to the Lausanne conference to the atmosphere of Angora terms already agreed to will be repudiated and agreement on the other unsettled points made impossible. France and Italy are in accord for the reopening of negotiations as soon as possible, but this is regarded as very unlikely.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Feb. 7.—The Turkish commander at Smyrna has informed the commanders of allied war ships at this city that if they do not withdraw their ships he will take steps to force them to do so.

Attachment Issued for Appearance of Judge Lucian Wright

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 7.—An attachment was issued in district court for Judge Lucian B. Wright of Sapulpa, said to be a defense witness in the case of C. A. Elkins, charged with murder in connection with the killing of J. H. Ferguson in a resort here last December. The defense requested the writ when the Sapulpa jurist failed to appear today. It is alleged that he was in the house at the time Ferguson was shot, and that the dying man requested him to take care of his wife.

The state rested its case yesterday.

Wealthy Indian is Found Dead in Car Near Fairfax, Okla.

(By the Associated Press)

PONCA CITY, Feb. 7.—Henry Rowan, a wealthy Osage Indian, was found dead in his automobile in a canyon near Fairfax today. He had apparently been dead four or five days. He was last seen by his wife last Thursday.

A large sum of money in his pocket was undisturbed. A coroner's jury returned a verdict of murder. A bullet had entered the back of his head and came out at the eye.

Fairfax is 15 miles southeast of here in Osage county. Officers are investigating the killing.

WORTH REPEATING

E. R. Waite, secretary of the Shawnee Chamber of Commerce, expressed recently what we have been saying for a number of years in different language. At the risk of repeating, we give his statement:

"With building programs advancing rapidly, industries seeking new locations and the people everywhere optimistic, it is about time for the people of our modern cities who want increased population, who want more industrial institutions, who want business increased and the activities that go with a larger city, who want the natural rise of value of their property that attends the growth of a city—to GET BUSY.

"Wishing, hoping, praying, and dreaming never brought better business to any city, nor did it ever build any city into a larger and busier city. Every city has two classes of institutions, that if a city is put over they are the ones that will do the work; they are the Newspapers and the Chamber of Commerce. When a proposition is fairly and squarely before the public, their answer is usually the right one, and if they will get behind their newspapers and their business organizations, they will be behind a force that will move them forward to achievement."

The recent agitation for a modification of our immigration laws that would permit a larger inflow of foreign population failed to make an impression on congress. Indeed, a bill has been reported that will have the effect of reducing the number admitted under the present law, if it is enacted. In view of the radical agitation during the war and since, the mushy talk about this country being a haven of refuge for the oppressed of the earth ceased to have much weight. Finally when the labor unions took a stand against the importation of cheap labor, the matter of letting down the bars took on a different aspect. In times past congressmen were afraid of what might happen to them if they lost the foreign vote, but now the labor vote is making itself felt, hence the ineffectiveness of the propaganda in favor of permitting more foreigners to enter. It is universally admitted that a searching investigation should be made concerning the desirability of the immigrants admitted in order that only the best should come in and in time become real American citizens, instead of a menace to the government and American ideals.

One of the leading Washington correspondents expresses the opinion that President Harding may not seek another nomination. This writer, who is non-partisan in his writing, says that the wily politicians are making Harding the goat for all that goes wrong, much of it really the result of their own maneuvering. Although the president is very patient and uncomplaining, so far as the public is aware, it is natural to suppose that the injustice of it all rankles in his bosom and that in time he will be in a frame of mind to quit the whole works and let the old guard have it to themselves again. Roosevelt was the only Republican leader in recent years who was able to tell this bunch where to head in. His popularity with the masses of the people was such that the politicians, although they hated him, had better judgment than to raise a row. It was likely to bring their careers to an end rather than that of Roosevelt.

A GOOD SUGGESTION

In our opinion Tom D. McKeown, congressman-elect from this district, has the best idea we have heard for the settlement of the state banking problem resulting from the failure of several state banks within the last eighteen months.

Mr. McKeown suggests that a finance corporation be formed, modeled after the United States War Finance Corporation, with the power to float bonds. These bonds will be secured by the assets of the failed banks. The proceeds from the sale of the bonds will be used to pay off as much of the deposits as possible, and the proceeds from the collection of the assets will retire the bonds.

Such a procedure would relieve the general public and would result in paying almost the entire deposits.

There is a ray of hope in the late dispatches saying that the Lausanne peace conference may not fail after all. It has been a hard struggle with the victorious Turks insisting on impossible demands and refusing any terms except what they themselves demanded, but perhaps they may at the last moment see the futility of their stubborn course and agree to a modification of their demands. The peace of Europe is in the balance, for if another war starts between any two nations, others will inevitably be drawn into the conflict and we may have another chapter of horrors recorded on the pages of the world's history. Here, as in other councils, the voice of the United States has been for peace and it now appears that this influence may be the deciding factor in restoring order in the distracted Old World.

The only knocking needed in building a town is that done by the carpenters, iron workers and brick masons. All the rest can be dispensed with.

The Forum of the Press

A Coalition Candidate

(Fort Worth Star Telegram)
Senator Watson of Indiana, in a speech before the Senate yesterday, predicted that President Harding will be nominated unanimously by the Republican party as a candidate for re-election.

What that will mean two years from now it would be idle to speculate over, but it is easy to understand that it would be the safest course for the Republican party to take. As it stands today the Republican party is a polyglot aggregation of men of every point of view from social-reform, as represented by Senator LaFollette and Senator Brookhart, to reactionary standpoints, as represented by Senator Lodge. It contains such men of diverse tariff views as that of Mr. Fordney, who is a high protectionist of the old school, and that of Senator Borah, who voted against the present tariff law and is almost a free trader. In foreign policy it has no common view. Senator Johnson of California is an absolute isolationist, as are many other prominent Republicans, and there is every possible view represented in the party, from the isolation of Senator Johnson to the full participation in European affairs represented by former Governor Lowden.

President Harding is not distinguished for his adherence to any one of the factions of the party. He was a compromise candidate, and his chief labor as titular head of the party has been to keep the factions from flying apart. No other man more nearly represents a common ground for the party factions than he does, and for that reason he is the safest candidate. The truth is that the Republican party as it stands today is a coalition party, and President Harding is the most available man as a coalition candidate.

The nomination of President Harding for re-election might hold the factions together. Certainly he

Wayland's Big Job.

(Chickasha Express)
Mr. John T. Wayland of Kansas City is director of the government savings organizations of the Tenth federal reserve district, carrying on his work through the Federal Reserve bank in Kansas City. It has been his duty to boss the big job Savings stamps and certificates of the series of 1918 which became due on January 1, 1923.

Some idea of the magnitude of the task which Mr. Wayland faced may be gained from the fact that since December 1 the Federal Reserve bank of Kansas City and its branches at Oklahoma City, Omaha and Denver have cashed in excess of 9,200,000 stamps, valued at more than $46,000,000. Over 650,000 separate certificates have been sent in and each one separately checked and examined. None of these certificates had more than twenty stamps affixed and thousands of them only two or three stamps.

Since the distribution began there have been issued and mailed to owners of War Savings stamps over 179,000 cashier's checks, and this does not include probably $30,000,000 in stamps which have been presented directly to postmasters for payment. The Reserve bank has kept a force of about 275 extra clerks at work on this job. If in some cases there has been delay, these figures should help the public to understand the cause of it.

MIT ARTISTS NOW READY FOR GONG

Cooper and Ivey to Battle for 10 Rounds in Big Program Here.

Final details for the Thursday night boxing program have been completed and contenders will be at their best condition when the bell ends the suspense long felt by Ada boxing fans.

Battling Ivey, who meets Arche Cooper, local fighter, here at the Armory hall Thursday night, is in his best condition according to his trainer and manager at Allen, where he has been working out during the past two weeks.

Ivey comes to Ada well recommended in the sport arena of southern Oklahoma with a long list of victories to his belt from bouts in the Wilson oil field vicinity.

Cooper has been training faithfully during the past week and stands in his best form when the bell starts the fray. Cooper's last workout will be taken today, tomorrow being his day of rest before the big bout.

Manager A. R. Dixon stated Wednesday that Cooper would give the boxing fans of Ada his best effort Thursday night and considering the reputation of the invader believes that the bout will be the best ever seen here.

Preliminaries have all been arranged and will afford the fans with a fitting introduction to the main attraction. Jack Ivey, brother of the battler, and Claude Sparks, local boxer will mix in preliminaries.

Dixon assured the sport fans that the building would be kept warm for the fight. Gas stoves will be erected today if the weather condition holds, Dixon said. Seats and stage are being arranged today.

Property Restored To China Adds New Trouble to People

TSINGTAO, Feb. 6.—Restoration of Kiaochow leased territory to China by Japan has given the Chinese departments of agriculture a new task in the preservation of millions of trees planted by the Germans during their occupation. Even in the recent period of transition, when Japanese vigilance became relaxed, the Chinese population of the territory began cutting trees. Up to that time the Japanese had protected trees and shrubs with the utmost rigidity—so much that anyone tearing a root from the ground without authorization was subject to severe penalty.

The department of agriculture is alive to the danger threatening groves and forests in the restored area and is taking steps toward conservation; but fear is felt even by representatives of that ministry that the measures possible in the present financial state of the government will be inadequate to stem the denuding of the territory.

Why Teeth Show

In pictures—and everywhere today Millions are removing film

Have you noted how most pictures now show pretty teeth? And how countless people, wherever you look, show beautiful teeth when they smile nowadays?

Those are results of this new way of teeth cleaning, which millions now employ. Now we urge you to try it at our cost, and to start today.

Try combating film

Until late years, nearly all teeth were kept clouded by a film. And 49 in 50 people suffered from film attacks.

Film is that viscous coat you feel. It clings to teeth, gets between the teeth and stays. It forms the basis of dingy coats, including tartar, unless you constantly combat it. Stains are absorbed by that film. It also holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Thus most tooth troubles are now traced to film. And all those troubles were constantly increasing, despite all care of the teeth.

Old ways ineffective

No ordinary tooth paste effectively fights film. In fact, tooth pastes based on soap and chalk even make the film more clinging.

So dental science has for years been seeking film combatants. Two effective methods have been found. Able authorities proved them by many careful tests. And now leading dentists almost the world over advise their daily use.

A new-type tooth paste has been created, based on modern research. The name is Pepsodent. In that tooth paste are embodied those two film combatants—one to curdle the film, one to remove it.

Careful people of fifty nations are now using this new method, largely by dental advice. To millions of homes it is bringing a new dental era.

Two other new effects

Pepsodent brings two other effects which dental science has now proved essential.

It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits on teeth which may otherwise ferment and form acids.

It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is there to neutralize the acids which cause decay.

The ordinary tooth paste brings just opposite effects. It decreases these two great tooth-protecting

OUCH! LUMBAGO! RUB PAINS FROM SORE, LAME BACK

Back hurts you? Can't straighten up without sudden pain, sharp aches and twinges? Now listen! That's lumbago, sciatica, or maybe from a strain, and you'll get relief the moment you rub your back with soothing, penetrating St. Jacob's Oil. Nothing else takes out soreness, lameness and stiffness so quickly. You simply rub it on your back, and out comes the pain. It is harmless, and doesn't burn the skin.

Limber up! Don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle of oil, honest St. Jacob's Oil from any drug store, and after using it just once you'll forget that you ever had backache, lumbago or sciatica, because your back will never hurt, or cause any more misery. It never disappoints, and has been recommended for 60 years.—Adv.

DANGERS OF A COLD

Ada People Will Do Well To Heed Them.

Many bad cases of kidney trouble result from a cold or a chill. Congested kidneys fall behind in filtering the poison-laden blood and backache, headache, dizziness and disordered kidney action follow. Don't neglect a cold. Use Doan's Kidney Pills at the first sign of kidney trouble. Follow this Ada resident's example.

R. O. Hackett, drilling contractor, 224 E. Third St., says: "I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills, as I have found them very satisfactory for backaches and muscular lameness. If I strained my back or took cold, it always seemed to effect my kidneys and start a dull, nagging ache across the small of my back. When I have had these spells, I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills and they have soon fixed me up in good shape. I always tell everyone I hear complaining of kidney trouble to give Doan's a trial."

Price 60, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Hackett had. Foster-McBarn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

Slenderness and Grace
Carry This Dress Well

WOMAN'S INSTITUTE
Fashion Service

By MARY BROOKS PICKEN

The young woman, possessing both slenderness and grace seems just to fit a lovely taffeta dress, youthfulness and bouffantness being the chief requisite.

A full skirt with generous taffeta rosettes and ruffles gives distinction to this dress, which is navy blue in color. The lace bertha, purposely cut in square neckline effect, to be different, seems an additional ornament.

The bodice, which is plain and long enough to wrinkle, slightly opens at the center back under a modish little fold plait. The sleeves are set in and close-fitting.

The skirt is straight and shirred at the waist line with side panels producing, by their arrangement, the hoop-side effect. If the taffeta is very soft, a strip of featherbone placed crosswise underneath the joining of the side panels will help to give the right effect.

COLLEGE NOTES

College classes will dismiss tomorrow at noon so that teachers may go to Oklahoma City for the Oklahoma Education association meeting there. Mr. Linscheid states that a majority of the college teachers will attend the association. R. R. Robinson of the local faculty is on the program for two talks. Mr. Myers will address the Latin teachers and Miss Francisco the home economics teachers.

President Linscheid reports that most of the members of the college faculty who have been ill are recovering. Mr. Robinson met his classes today. Mr. Butcher and Coach Thompson have recovered, and Miss Watson and Mr. Wood are reported improving. Although many of the students are out with the flu, there are only one or two serious cases among them.

Mr. Linscheid states that he is to address the national meeting of the American Association of Teachers colleges at Cleveland, Ohio, February 23. He will also speak at the manual training normal school at Pittsburg, Kansas, some time during March.

Farmers' Column

With one week of February gone we are reminded that gardening time is not far away. Irish potatoes will soon be in season and ready to put into the ground. I usually plant about the middle of February, putting the pieces rather deep. Occasionally the late freezes get the tops, but I have got by oftener than I have lost. Sometimes I have saved the tops by pulling dirt over them when a frost was in prospect.

A good many remedies for borers in fruit trees are recommended, but I have found fish oil soap about as certain as one could expect to find. A little dirt should be dug from around the trunk of the tree so that this part may be reached as well as others. Then a scrub solution of the soap should be swabbed over the limbs and trunk. Some poured into the trench around the trunk before the dirt is pulled back will not hurt anything. Last year several of our trees were badly infested with borers, but the above remedy proved highly effective. This soap can be had at drug stores.

I would like to hear from some of the readers of this paper about what per centage of eggs their hens have been laying this winter. I have a personal interest in this because I want to see how other people's chickens compare with our White Leghorns. We have 40 of laying age, 35 of which are pullets. During the month of January they laid 40 1-4 dozen eggs. How does this compare with your records?

We are finding that raising chickens in town is reasonably profitable, at least they more than pay for themselves. In January we sold eggs from 50 to 35 cents per dozen. At this rate our hens produced about $15 worth of eggs, but if we count for 150 for 15, the price we would have had to pay for pure bred eggs, the total would be about $10 but part of that went to feed a bunch of 47 young chickens which are now about frying size. Last spring and summer we sold a large number of fryers and later sold some pullets and cockerels.

Here is a suggestion about guarding against black rot in sweet potatoes that I clipped from the Farm and Ranch. If anyone has tried this or a better one, we would like to know about it. Potato raising is becoming an important item in the agricultural circles of Pontotoc county and I know that all practical suggestions will prove valuable to some of our readers. Here is the item:

"Do you plant to grow sweet potatoes this year? If you do, it is important that you give serious consideration to the disinfecting of your seed before bedding them. In order that your potatoes be free of disease.

"After selecting the seed carefully, they should be disinfected in a solution of bichloride of mercury, at the rate of 1 ounce to 8 gallons of water. The tubers should remain in the solution for ten minutes. Use wooden barrels or tubs to hold the solution and dip the seed in hampers or crates. Never use metal containers in such work. After ten bushels have been disinfected, add a half ounce of bichloride of mercury to restore the original strength to the mixture. When fifty bushels have been dipped, discard the entire solution and make up a new mixture. Disinfecting the seed will not cure any spores that may be present and which will enter the cut or bruised tubers.

"Bichloride of mercury is harmless to the hands or clothing, but is a deadly poison if taken internally. Never leave the tablets or solution where children or stock can reach it. Keep the barrel covered when not in use. When ready to be discarded, pour the solution into a hole, and cover immediately with soil."

"THE ETERNAL FLAME"
SAID TO BE NORMA TAL-

In carrying out her announced policy of giving the motion picture public the best that money, time and artistic endeavor can produce, Norma Talmadge is following her great triumph in "Smilin' Through" with another magnificent film "The Eternal Flame," an adaptation of "La Duchesse de Langeais," by Honore de Balzac.

In "The Eternal Flame," which will be the First National attraction at the McSwain Theatre today, is to be found a story of tense heart interest that revolves around the scandals and romances of the court of Louis XVIII. Miss Talmadge portrays the leading role of the Duchess, a great beauty of high character, who, when she learns that her husband, the Duc de Langeais, is betraying her purity, becomes the coquette of the court. In her flirtations she arouses the love of the invincible General de Montrevau. He is furious when he learns of her desire to be known as the conqueror of the man who has never fallen in love and in his rage kidnaps her, intending to brand her with the mark of infamy. She pleads and he has not the courage to go through with the terrible punishment and releases her. The Duchess realizes that her love is real and in daily letters to the general bares her soul to him.

London Omnibus Drivers to Pay for Own Vehicle

(By the Associated Press)

LONDON.—An innovation in the intricate omnibus system of London soon will be inaugurated in the form of making it possible for ambitious drivers to become the absolute owners of their buses, if certain plans now under consideration materialize.

Today most of these buses, which crawl through the narrow streets of London like a continuous procession of elephants, are owned mostly by one company, but a movement has been started recently to give adequate reward to good drivers. It is sponsored by a gasoline and accessories company, which hopes to make its money by supplying these commodities to the owner-drivers. The plan briefly is this: The holder of a one-pound sterling share in the company pays a weekly subscription of ten shillings. When sufficient funds have been collected the subscribers will draw lots, and the lucky driver will be given an omnibus. He will be allowed also to choose his route through the city. He will then pay two pounds sterling a week on the purchase price of the omnibus until the conveyance has been completely paid for.

The plan makes it possible also for drivers and conductors to own an omnibus jointly. The ownership of an omnibus is considered a lucrative source of income, since it is estimated that one omnibus, on a good route, earns approximately ten pounds sterling a day. This earning power is generally fairly equal throughout the year, because the mild winters in London permit passengers to ride on top every month of the 12.

The Joy of Living

By Sidney Gowing

If you want to see the age of romance re-created right here in the Twentieth Century, read this captivating tale.

Billy Spencer, from Colorado, steps into a thoroughly English picture and carries the occasion just like a knight of old. And the Honorable Aimee, daughter of Lord Scroope, acts right up to American ideals of enterprise and daring in furthering Billy's actions.

Romance does not suffer in the slightest degree, in fact is aided, by the delicious humor which enters the situations. Everyone in the story, excepting possibly a couple of burglars, is funny; and even they are interesting.

Save the papers, because you will want to read this tale a second time.

NEW GINGHAMS

FASHIONABLY RIGHT

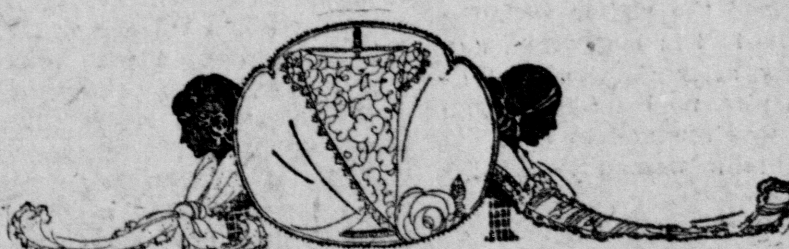

Of course the fashionable woman never waits until the day of Spring to begin her sewing, but instead, she begins to plan during February so that she may don her costume at the first intimation of Spring. McCall patterns, being the foremost in the minds of the professional dress-maker, will enable you to lay out and cut your dress so that it will possess all the principal features of piquant Parisian interpretations.

As usual there is much talk of Gingham—Imported and Domestic ones alike. Most of our patrons are familiar with the beautiful line of Marshall Field Gingham that we carry. Crisp fore-runners of Spring they are. Small plain designs and clever check within check patterns tell their story in soft tones that are rich in color; yellow, spring green, heliotrope and rose.

Enough for the use in the dress mode. For the home, as one of the Journals state, "a few crisp swirls of Gingham about the house will give it a desired breeziness—for draperies, pillows, bed spreads, dress bags, etc."

Domestic Gingham Range from

Annually use organic Nuxated Iron to build up red blood, strength and endurance.

There are thousands of people who are ageing and breaking down a time of life when they should be enjoying that perfect health which carries defiance to disease simply because they are not awake to the condition of their blood. Without organic iron your blood carries no oxygen, and without oxygen there is nothing to unite with the carbon in your food so what you eat does you no good. It is like putting coal into a stove without fire. You can now obtain organic iron like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils, and apples from any drugist under the name of Nuxated Iron. Nuxated Iron also contains the principal chemical constituent of active, living nerve force: it is, therefore, a true blood and nerve food. It helps create and rebuild new and stronger red blood cells. It feeds the body the substances which nerve force must have to give it that vital, electric power which is stored in the nerve and brain cells of man. Nuxated Iron often increases the strength and endurance of weak, nervous, rundown men and women in two weeks time. ## John Meets an Old Friend

By CAROLINE H. WILSON

(© by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

"Bob and I are going on the yacht club cruise, Halliwell; better come with us," remarked John Murray to his friend, pushing back his chair and lighting a cigarette.

Halliwell threw his cards into the center of the table.

"No, thank you, Murray. I must get back to the office. Your eternal good times would be the death of me. Have to think of the wife, you know. I'll take my pleasure at the other end of life."

"Eternal good times!" thought Murray, as he walked down the street, alone. "I haven't had many good times lately. Business is rotten. And Laura is cold as ice, although I could have staked my life that Laura would have stuck if I had earned only a day laborer's pay. Well, perhaps I had better give up the cruise and go back to the office. There are several important letters that ought to go out on the next mail." Halliwell's remark still rankled.

He was walking down the avenue when, one block away from his office, he met his wife's old school friend, Coralie Winter.

"Why, how do you do, John," she exclaimed, holding out her hand. "Had lunch yet?" and without giving him time to answer, added, "I am 'most famished."

John hesitated the fraction of a moment, then gave up all thoughts of office work.

"Where shall we lunch today?" she asked, coolly, letting a casual passer-by gather the impression that they had been in the habit of meeting. John colored and looked after the man just as he, by some mental telepathy, turned and looked John over from head to foot.

"I don't care," exclaimed he, morosely. "Anywhere you please."

"A corner of the English tea room would suit me all right. I think a good lobster Newburg would please me down to the ground."

Murray groaned inwardly, and tried to visualize the state of his pocket-book. They found a secluded corner at the far end of the room, where John soon recovered his usual good spirits. He was laughing heartily at some witticism of Coralie when she happened to remark: "Oh, I'd love to go as far as the yacht club with you."

"Would you? Well, be a good sport and come with me. There'll be plenty of room. I'm going to motor down with my luggage this afternoon and let the chauffeur bring back the machine. Dare you? You'll have an awfully good time."

"Take your dare. I'm going to telephone and then I'll be with you in a jiffy."

Murray tipped the waiter with the last change he had in his pocket, and rose to follow after Coralie. Just as he leaned to pick up his fallen handkerchief, he was stunned to hear his wife talking to a woman friend behind him.

"Well, what of it?" asked John of himself, bristling in self defense. "Coralie is an old friend of Laura's."

Just the same he couldn't help remembering that his wife had asked for the use of the automobile that afternoon to go shopping. Also, that she had not been at all well lately.

"I've half a notion to turn back and get her to go with us. But she thinks I'm busy at the office, and goodness knows I ought to be. No, it's better not to speak, but I wish I had not met Coralie."

He hurriedly left the room and hunted up a telephone booth. He took out his watch.

"Three o'clock. By George! There's that note to Mears & Bornright. Gone to protest! I meant to go to the bank this afternoon. Hang it all! If I hadn't met Coralie it would all have been attended to. Come to think of it, though, I haven't got the $500 in the safe. Well, a short life and a merry one for me," he laughed. Then he joined Coralie on the sidewalk just as his chauffeur rounded the corner. He dismissed the man for the day.

Weaving his way through the crowded traffic took all his mind, so that he had little time to think of his troubles.

"Teach me to drive!" suddenly begged Coralie.

Murray was dismayed. He disliked anyone but his chauffeur to touch the wheel.

"Well, we'll have to get on a long stretch of road, no city streets for a novice," and he turned onto the country road.

"It's a wonderful day, John, too nice to spend in a poky office. I believe in taking a good time as one goes along. I was to meet a friend at three and buy some appropriate music for the church, but I should worry!" She laughed, lightly. John remembered that the keeping of an appointment was a life and death matter with his wife.

"Thank the heaven Coralie is not my wife," he thought. "Still, if the little mix is fond of me how can I snub her?" he reasoned.

As Coralie laughed she put one hand on his arm familiarly, turned, and smiled up into his face.

Crash!

Hours afterward when Murray came to himself he found himself in a hospital cot.

"The woman?" he inquired of the nurse, anxiously.

"Don't worry. You ran into nobody. Of course, your nerves are terribly shaken, but it might have been worse."

"Can it be possible that Coralie was unhurt?" he thought. "If so, can she be so heartless as to utterly desert me?" His tired brain could not solve the problem.

For days he lay there looking secretly at the door for Coralie. Her silence piqued him. Then one afternoon his friend, Harold Grinnell, came to sit with him.

"Wish me good luck, John. I am engaged to Coralie Winter."

A long pause, then Murray murmured faintly, "Since when?"

"Oh, for the last six months. Coralie wanted to keep it secret."

Another long pause, during which Grinnell considered calling the nurse.

"I hope to be carried home in the ambulance tomorrow," John said, to break the silence.

"Tomorrow! Why, I don't understand it. You certainly are not going home to an empty house? You must know that your wife went back to her father's last week!"

"So she did, to make a little visit. Well, my poor head troubles me yet," and Murray closed his eyes. Grinnell, thinking him asleep, stole out of the room.

"I do not blame the little girl. She is tired of the whole mess. Of course, she won't come back. I've done some thinking while I was alone here. Halliwell was right."

Murray closed his eyes again, wearily. "Wish I were dead," he thought. "But before I go I'd like to confess to the little girl. I don't blame her for being cold. I have been a skunk. She's told her father everything, of course. Small patience the old man will have with such a story as she could tell him."

Unconsciously he spoke aloud. He lay there with eyes closed, and the nurse, peeping in at the door, reported to the interne: "Sleeping comfortably."

Murray smiled, bitterly. "Shall I ever sleep again?" he thought. "This dull ache is more exquisite agony than any physical suffering caused by the accident. I'll have to give Laura up, of course. Her father isn't the man to give me a second trial."

A soft arm stole across his chest, and a long kiss warmed his lips. John hardly breathed for fear the joy would fade into a dream.

"John, do you know me?"

"My wife! But I want to confess. Coralie—"

"Never mind," she soothed. "I've known about Coralie all along, but surely we are not going to let a silly doll come between us, after all these years?"

"Tis only heaven that is given away," murmured John, closing his eyes in his first peaceful sleep, while Laura knelt beside him.

New One to Her.

Fastidious grammarians driven out of colleges and publishing offices appear to be taking refuge in the courts. Recently an actress was brought before a city magistrate for recklessly speeding in her automobile, and was asked by him what she was trying to do. She confessed with a smile: "I was just trying to seriously split the air." The judicial retort was: "Well, if you did it as well as you split the infinitive, I think it is no more than fair for you to split a $100 bill and leave it with the court." The somewhat dazed lady paid her fine, but confided to her friends that she would not know what an infinitive was if one leaped into her car.

Filling Cracks in Furniture.

Unwisely cracks in furniture may be filled in with beeswax. First soften the wax until it is of the consistency of putty, then press it firmly and smoothly into the cracks with a thin steel knife. Sandpaper over the surrounding wood and work the dust into the beeswax. This gives a wood finish or color, and when the furniture is varnished the cracks will have disappeared.

Beeswax is better than putty, for putty soon dries, crumbles and falls out, while the wax will remain for an indefinite length of time without change.

Pennock Deal Put Little Heat In Stove for Winter Leaguers

(By Norman E. Brown)

The present off season has been the dullest for the stove league boys in many moons. But for the recent David Harum trade pulled off by Harry Frazee of the Red Sox with the Yankees on the sucker end and the crowds around the "Round Oak" would be out of conversational fodder.

Here is the extent of trading activities in the majors since last fall.

The Red Sox traded Herk Pennock to the Yankees for three youngsters, Pitcher George Murray, Infielder Norman McMillan and Outfielder Camp Skinner.

The Tigers traded Howard Ehmke, Pitcher Holling and Infielder Herman to the Red Sox for Del Pratt and Pitcher Rip Collins.

The Tigers also traded Infielder Gagnon to Washington for a rookie pitcher, Francis.

The Cleveland Indians swapped Infielder-outfielder Joe Evans to Washington for the slugging Frank Brower.

The Cubs swapped Turner Barber, outfielder and first baseman, to the Dodgers for outfielder Wallace Hood.

The Phillies purchased First Baseman Walter Holke outright from the Braves.

The Yankees traded Catcher De Vornier to the Red Sox for a couple of unknown and untried youngsters.

That's the list.

Not much to rave about. As said is Herb Pennock, ready to save the day. And, oh boy, what an awful trade.

Pennock Getting Old

Here is Herb Pennock, ready to start his twelfth year in the big show, good pitcher when going good but a sort of in and out, traded for three of the best youngsters that could be gathered together.

McMillan showed his worth as a fielder and what the future holds for him when he alternated with Whitney Witt in the outer garden last spring while Babe Ruth was under suspension. Only the presence of the slingers, Ruth and Mousel, kept McMillan out of the regular lineup.

Murray showed much promise while winning three games and losing two for the Yanks. Why Huggins is willing to let him go to meet the exigencies of the moment is beyond me.

Skinner did not get much of a chance last season but looked well when he did break in. He is fleet, a good fielder and a fair batter.

Considering his lack of experience

he is an A. I. prospect. Of course, Huggins' main idea is to give immediate strength to the Yanks' pitching staff, which has been an uncertain quantity ever since Huggins has been guiding the team. It is not much credit to Huggins that in his service as manager he has failed to develop one good pitcher for his club.

Wild Man Moves.

The deal which made Howard Ehmke a member of the Red Sox is a much more interesting one. Here is a club voluntarily acquiring the wildest pitcher in the big leagues. To get him they permitted a stellar second sacker and a fair pitcher to go. They did, however, acquire another young hurler and a rookie infielder.

The two deals indicate that Frank Chance will present a much different team to the public than that which went through the motions last season.

One much talked of deal still hangs fire. That is the one which would make Eddie Collins and outfielder Bib Falk, Yankees, and send Bob Meusel and Aaron Ward to the White Sox. This may be pulled off before the April bell rings.

This would be good fuel for the chilly stove leaguers. But the chances of its coming off are growing dimmer.

Government Takes Action To Protect People From Unscrupulous Bond Frauds

(By the Associated Press)

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 7.—Persistent and increasing effort on the part of unscrupulous brokers and financial sharpers to secure control or possession of maturing Victory Notes and War Saving Certificates in exchange for questionable or worthless bonds and stocks has impelled the United States Treasury Department to repeat the warning issued by Secretary Mellon at the first of the year to holders of such government securities, John A. Prescott, President of the Investment Bankers' Association of America said here today.

"In addition the Department has strongly endorsed the action of the Investment Bankers' Association of America which recently adopted a resolution prohibiting its members from conducting campaigns for the trading out of Liberty Bonds, Victory Notes and War Saving Certificates into other securities," added Mr. Prescott who received today the government's endorsement and approval of the Association's action.

The President asserts that the present redemption of Victory Notes and War Saving Certificates, amounting in the first case to a total of $700,000,000 and in the other to the sum of $625,000,000 tends to a fertile field to the activities of such unscrupulous stock promoters.

"These maturing Government securities are held by a large number of people who invested in them during the war from patriotic motives but who never before had made any investments and who therefore have little or no experience in such matters," says President Prescott. "It is this class of men and women who are being imposed upon by promoters of fraudulent securities."

"To protect people who apply to them for advice in the matter, many bankers are strongly recommending the reinvestment of such funds in other Government securities or other sound investment of proven worth."

"The resolution adopted by the Investment Bankers' Association of America declares all members of the Association are hereby requested to refrain from any campaigns conducted either by public appeal, circulars, advertisements, or the concerted action on the part of salesmen, which have for their purpose the inducing of owners of United States Government securities to exchange for other forms of investments and that all members of this Association are urged to use all possible influence in causing others to refrain from using similar campaigns."

"Rule 1. Never permit a salesman to rush you into buying by the argument that the securities will be sold overnight."

"Rule 2. Take the literature and the salesman's statements to your investment banker for analysis and investigation."

"Rule 3. Confine your investment transactions to investment houses and bankers of established reputation and responsibility."

"Rule 4. Do not deal with total strangers."

"Rule 5. If your commercial or investment banker's recommendation is to let the securities alone, do so."

"The Treasury Department states that there are still more than $200,000,000 of U. S. Victory 4 3-4 percent Notes of the Series A, B, C, D, E, and F, which were called for payment on December 15, but have not been presented for payment."

"The Treasury Department further announces that it will retire the uncalled Victory Notes at any time, at 100 and accrued interest, if presented for payment."

Tuberculosis Hits Health of Germany for Heavy Losses

(By the Associated Press)

BERLIN.—Tuberculosis has made such heavy inroads on Germany's population recently that cries for additional financial aid are going up repeatedly from the official and unofficial relief agencies.

A short time ago more funds were demanded for the state insurance department which ministers to the tubercular. Its aid extends this winter to 50,000 families. One of the department's regulations requires that, before a family can claim its benefits, at least one member

INCREASE ASKED FOR BIRD SHOWS

$9,500 Annual Appropriation Asked for Continuance of Poultry Assn.

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 7.—An increased appropriation from $2,000 annually to $7,500 a year will be asked of the state legislature, on behalf of the Oklahoma Poultry Association by John A. Whitehurst, president of the state board of agriculture, he has announced.

The poultry business in Oklahoma has grown from a total return of between $7,000,000 and $8,000,000 annually to more than $30,000,000 a year in the last ten years, according to Whitehurst, who says that Oklahoma will soon become one of the leading states of the nation in poultry production.

Whitehurst predicts that in the course of the next decade the Oklahoma poultry industry will grow to an annual value of about $75,000,000.

One of the first steps to be taken in the direction of growth in the industry is the placing of the poultry association on an independent basis, so that it will not have to rely entirely upon the bids different towns and cities make for the holding of its annual shows according to Whitehurst. He said that on the item of cooage alone for the annual shows a great saving can be made with a little larger appropriation. He said that for the show held here two weeks ago the association was forced to rent its coops from a Kansas City firm for $700, and he would provide $5,000 out of the new appropriation for the purchase of coops to be used by the association.

Another great step to be taken, Whitehurst said, is the organization of central hatcheries, like one which has been built at the Agricultural and Mechanical college, which has a capacity of 25,000 eggs. He said they can be built at little trouble and expense, and that the average success is above 75 per cent of a hatch.

Still another step in the advancement of the poultry industry, as seen by Whitehurst, is the establishment of egg and poultry selling co-operative organizations. He believes that through such associations three to five cents a dozen can be made on egg sales more than is now received, and the same amount a pound on poultry sales.

ACCURACY Is Our Motto

You can depend upon any lenses we make for you. Your doctor will tell you.

COON

The dry climate of Western Oklahoma is particularly adapted to the baby chick business, according to Whitehurst, and he says that it is one of the most profitable parts of the poultry industry. He says the profit is about fifty percent.

The dryness of the western part of the state is also greatly adapted to the raising of turkeys Whitehurst says, and he relates an instance of a farmer's wife who made $500 more net profit from her turkeys than her husband made from his crops last year.

"Probably no appropriation for the building up of any industry in Oklahoma has done more for that industry, as measured by the size of the appropriation at least, than the $2,000 annual appropriation provided in the Jackson poultry law passed by the legislature six years ago," said Whitehurst. "The association now wants to get away from the 'highest bidder' feature governing its annual shows, and hence the request for an increased allowance."

A TOUGH SITUATION

"My wife and four children were dependent on me for their living. My stomach and liver trouble of five years had made me despondent, as no medicine seemed to help me, and I was gradually wasting away. It was a tough situation. ## State Corporation Commission Adopts Rules on Inflammables

(By the Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 7.—A recent supplementary set of rules adopted by the state corporation commission for the purpose of regulating the handling of gasoline, kerosene, naphtha and other inflammable liquids, is expected to eliminate some of the dangers in such handling, according to E. R. Hughes, member of the commission. The order is supplemental to an order effective more than a year ago.

Under the additional rules the following orders were made:
Complete separate pipe lines shall be installed for the unloading of gasoline, naphtha or kerosene by suction, and discharge lines above the ground shall be painted red for gasoline and green or blue for other liquids.

All new electrical installations and appliances must conform to the code of the national Board of Fire Underwriters.

Warehouses and storage stations must be equipped with fire extinguishers and sand supplies.

Tank wagons must be grounded for electricity from the ends of the discharge pipes, by means of chains or some other conveyor of electricity.

VANOSS.

Owing to the weather chart today the people of this community have about decided they weren't going to be cheated out of all their winter even if Christmas has passed so suddenly.

The "dear old Sunshine band" is awakening, after so many years of silence, but seems to spring forth with a large crowd of youngsters instead of the old faithful class.

Nevertheless we wish our singing teacher and pianist the best of luck through their faithful teaching.

I want to add that they extend a hearty invitation to those who wish to attend the singing school held at the Missionary Baptist church, which is conducted by Carl Solomon, teacher, and Mrs. Callie Templeman, pianist.

Mrs. Bud White of Purcell was visiting her mother, Mrs. Adella Jones Saturday and Sunday who has been very sick from the effects of some dental work she had done. Mrs. Nettie Henry was also a guest Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Maud Walker of Stringtown was attending business in Vanoss Saturday.

Miss Bada Jones of Arkansas City, Kans., is visiting her mother, Mrs. Adella Jones. Miss Jones is employed in the Ray Studio company of that city, under the instruction of Mr. Ray who says her lessons have been completely perfect. Miss Jones states that she has found the job she has long sought for, which is enlarging and developing portraits, touching and oil painting. This work is very artistic and none so fascinating. Now Miss Jones we will expect some paintings from you soon.

Aunt Woodie Templeman has been ill here of late from the effects of bad teeth.

Bud Collins of Spiro, Okla., was visiting friends here last week.

Mrs. Beulah Shaw, formerly of Sulphur, was visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Shaw last week and recently returned to her future home on the farm about five miles southeast of here. Beulah has been on the sick list for several months, which resulted in several operations.

The B. Y. P. T. C. is progressing nicely and pupils seem to take great interest.

Marvin Jones is now operating a telephone company in York Town. We are pleased to hear of his doing so well, and waiting patiently for the day when he returns home.

W. H. Catron is another member on the sick list but is improving.

HUMMING BIRD.

H. K. Rankin, Olay Ward, J. O. Henderson and J. R. Newby were in Ada Monday, paying taxes.

Quite a number of people from here attended the burial of Mr. Dave Galey at the Summers Chapel cemetery Sunday.

We have having quite a lot of sickness in our community lately. Lee Mitchell is very sick with pneumonia, Curtis Blevins, Luther Walls, George Myers and Jewel Fowler has pneumonia, and his little sister, Elsie is threatened with the same trouble.

There have been some changes as the new year rolls in. Pete Cartwright is working the H. K. Rankin farm. L. L. Courtright goes to the J. T. Murphy place. Mr. Workman, from Heber Springs, Ark. is on the Walter Collins farm. He has bought the place and is here to stay, he says.

The wedding bells have rung again out here! Bob Willoughby and Miss Opera Trimble were quietly married last Saturday at the home of the bride's parents. These are two of our most popular young people, and their many friends wish them a long and happy life and joy forever.

The singing at J. R. Newby's Sunday night was well attended and all had a fine time.

Del Cole and John Bray attended preaching at Lone Hill Sunday night.

Rev. Atkinson will fill his regular appointment here next Sunday. Jeffery Lemon of Asher was visiting J. W. Dunbar last week.

School was off a few last week. Colds, flu, and a small pox scare are most too much all at once.

IRON AND STEEL UNION POSSIBLE

Japanese Manufacturers Now Ready for Presentation to Government.

(By the Associated Press)
TOKIO.—The unification of the iron and steel industry long has been a subject of discussion and many people interested in the enterprise have been steadily working for the realization of the scheme. The councilors of the Iron and Steel Association recently passed a resolution advocating a thorough unification of the industry and presented the resolution to the government.
After dwelling on the important nature of the industry for the purpose of national defense the resolution goes on to say that the demand for iron and steel in the country is yearly increasing, bringing about a proportionate increase in the import of these goods and that if their import is not confined to proper limits the future of the domestic industry will be seriously compromised.
As things stand at present, the resolution states, private concerns are engaged in one branch or other of the industry and lack a thorough cooperation in the manufacture of pig iron and of steel and steel materials. The government steel works, it is pointed out, are conducted on a gigantic scale with the inevitable tendency that the official enterprise is always bringing pressure to bear upon private efforts.
So long as this state of affairs obtains no real development of the industry can be expected. The amalgamation of private iron and steel making concerns will be meaningless if the government steel works at Yawata is left out of account. For this reason the resolution urges the government to take this phase of the question into careful consideration and to map out a fundamental plan of unification of the iron and steel industry in the country, so that the government enterprise and private concerns may be merged into a comprehensive whole.

NORMA TALMADGE SEEN IN FINEST SCREEN ROLE

A wife of purity transformed by despair into court beauty and heartless coquette, with all Paris at her feet, who gave nothing and took hearts' blood in exchange. That was the young Duchesse de Langeais.
And an iron man of battle, unversed in women and love. That was General Armand de Montriveau, friend of Napoleon.
In a trice she turned him into a violent man of passion, to whom love was a religion, and kept him swinging perilously between hope and despair, while the court of Louis XVIII looked on and laughed at her conquest.
But it took the anguish of unrequited love, of contempt and merciless hatred on the part of the disillusioned De Montriveau when he learned he was being played with to change the coquette into the supremely loving woman, to whom no sacrifice was too great to redeem herself in his eyes.
Norma Talmadge gives a most finished portrayal of the Duchess in her latest and greatest starring vehicle, "The Eternal Flame," the First National attraction playing at the McSwain Theatre Wednesday, while Conway Tearle, as De Montriveau, gives one of the most artistic and convincing delineations of his screen career. "The Eternal Flame" is the first picture Miss Talmadge has made since "Smiling Through," and it promises to outdo the records established by that success.

POPULAR MECHANICS MAGAZINE MOVES INTO ITS OWN HOME

H. H. WINDSOR

CHICAGO.—Popular Mechanics Magazine celebrated its twenty-second anniversary recently by moving into its own new building at Ontario and St. Clair streets. The magazine was founded by H. H. Windsor, its present directing head, in 1901.
The building, recently completed, is a pioneer in the architectural development of the near North side which, with the opening of the Michigan boulevard link bridge, is becoming a business center that is expected eventually to rival the loop. The edifice cost $450,000 and the ground $150,000. The entire seven floors will be occupied by the magazine.
"When I started the magazine," said Mr. Windsor, "all my friends said I was crazy. Up to that time, no Chicago magazine of national circulation, outside of trade journals, ever had made a success. But I had faith in my venture and stuck to it in spite of the fact that in the first six years, I lost $140,000 of my own money.

"Then with no change in the character of the magazine or in its editorial policy and apparently without rhyme or reason, the magazine changed overnight from a failure into a big success. It was the first Chicago magazine of general circulation ever to win success. It now has a circulation of a half million and goes to every part of the globe. I ascribe its success to the fact that it tells in plain language and brief, what the average man and woman wants to know about engineering and mechanics."

Popular Mechanics has 4,500 regular contributors throughout the world. Anyone who has a story to tell about some new or interesting mechanical contrivance is welcome to its pages. Most of its stories are short, and almost all are illustrated.

Construction of Ten Million Dollar Cathedral to Rival Structures Built In Europe is Plan of Episcopal

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Plans for immediate completion of a great American National Cathedral, larger than Westminster Abbey and rivaling the celebrated structures of Europe were announced here today at the annual convention of the Episcopal Diocese of Washington.
Costing ten million dollars, and with its central tower rising above the Washington monument, the great edifice is planned to take in the hearts of Americans the place which the old Abbey occupies among the British nation; to probably become the final resting place of America's celebrated dead and as "A witness for Christ in the capital of the nation."
The plans contemplate more than a diocesan cathedral; they embrace a national shrine.
Although the construction of a cathedral on the heights of Mount Saint Alban, in the northwest section of Washington, has been going on slowly for some time, it was not until very recently that it was decided to raise the funds to complete the edifice immediately as a national undertaking.

Making the announcement today, the Rt. Rev. Alfred T. Harding, Bishop of Washington, pointed out that at the last general convention of the Episcopal Church both houses unanimously adopted a resolution which "commends the erection without delay at the capital of the nation of a great cathedral to witness to the spiritual ideals of America."

"This," said Bishop Harding "is the basis of the appeal we are now making to the churchmen and church women of our land. We are convinced that this witness for Christ in the capital of the nation will be a potent agency in lifting the minds of men to spiritual realities and thus counteract the trend so evident in our time towards materialism."

Beginning in a comparatively small way, the first Bishop of Washington, the late Dr. Henry Yates Satterlee, made it his life's work to acquire and pay for the site, which has grown until now it comprises sixty-four acres, on the heights of the northwest section, overlooking the Potomac, and with the national capital spread below in panorama. Already on the property is a school for girls; its building the gift of the late Mrs. Phoebe Hearst. There is also a boys school the building for which was given by Mrs. Harriet Lane Johnson, niece of President Buchanan in memory of her two sons James Buchanan and Henry Elliott. The Bishop's home which stands in the Cathedral Close was the gift of Mrs. Susan Evelyn Murray. In the little sanctuary stands an exquisitely carved stone pulpit which ultimately will be placed in the completed cathedral. It is presented by the Archbishop, Dean and Chapter of Canterbury Cathedral, England. A great stone Peace Cross, also stands in the grounds, erected at the close of the Spanish-American war and dedicated by the late President McKinley.
The cathedral has been designed by one of the greatest English architects, the late George F. Bodley and his American associate the late Henry Vaughan. It has been pronounced one of the most beautiful in the world. It will be seen that in its great proportions the cathedral will be larger than Westminster Abbey, for its whole length, outside measurement, will be five hundred feet; its width on hundred and thirty five feet. Its great central tower will rise to two hundred and sixty feet, and its twin front towers will be one hundred and central tower erected on the great eminence will have an elevation of ninety five feet tall. The massive six hundred and forty-four feet above the city of Washington, making it the most conspicuous and commanding object in the capital.

The Apse, already erected, was the gift of the late Mrs. Archibald D. Russell, in memory of her mother Mrs. Percy R. Pyne. The Bethlehem Chapel, beneath the Apse is at present used for services. A considerable portion of the choir already is in process of construction, largely through the gift of a Washington layman whose name is withheld, and the foundations of the entire structure, also in process of construction will be completed within the coming year. The present value of the property with its endowments and investment funds has been conservatively estimated more than four million dollars of which the largest single gift was five hundred thousand dollars by the late John A. Kasson, one time United States Minister to Austria.

Behing the present national movement are to be numbered some of the best known Americans. Among those who are taking an active part are the following members of the Cathedral Chapter: Charles C. Glover, chairman of the board of the Riggs National Bank, at whose home in 1893 a meeting was held which resulted in the charter of the Cathedral Foundation; Henry White, former American ambassador to France; Charles J. Bell, president of the American Security & Trust Company; James Parmelee, Trustee of the Carnegie Foundation Fund; Corcoran Thomas and Dr. William H. Wilmer; Bishop Perry of Rhode Island; Bishop Rhinelander of Pennsylvania; Bishop Harding of Washington, president of the chapter. The Very Rev. A. C. F. Bratenahl, dean of the cathedral; Rev. William L. DeVries, the chancellor; Rev. James E. Freeman, rector of the Church of the Epiphany and Dr. William C. Rives. Subsequently there will be added to the list other Bishops of the list other bishops of the church, distinguished clergymen and laymen and women from all the states.

In presenting the plan for immediate construction, Dr. Freeman today in behalf of the Bishop and the chapter made the following announcement:

"The Cathedral that it is proposed to erect in the capital of the nation, makes an unusual and unique appeal because it is national in character. There is no other city on this continent where such a building can so fitly express the high ideals of our nation as Washington. This is more than a Diocesan building and its interest is more than local. Here in Washington stands the great buildings that have to do with the large concerns of federal administration, and here it is indispensable that a incarnate and interpret those things that we hold and believe to be fundamental to the perpetuity of the nation itself.

"Beyond the fact that it is the building of a great religious body, it must stand as the witness of our common faith as a people. In the very best sense it is to be a house of prayer for all people. No building in Great Britain so focuses the affections of the people as Westminster Abbey. This great abbey is literally the shrine of Great Britain. It is believed that the national cathedral in Washington ultimately must come to be to America what the Abbey is to the British people. It ought to be the place of sepulture for the great dead of our nation. It ought to be a memorial to the men and women who so unstintingly gave themselves for the people of the world in the great war. It ought to furnish a place for great assemblies, national and international, meeting in Washington upon great missions that relate to the vast interests of America and the peoples of the world.

"From its pulpit, must issue messages that deal with the most vital concerns of our individual and corporate life. This national cathedral is conceived to focus the highest ideals we hold as a people. In all these respects we believe it must make its reasonable appeal to lovers of God and country. On its artistic side it will be the greatest building of its kind in America and one of the notable buildings of the world. If a nation can be aroused to erect great materials for its distinguished dead then surely it must be appealed to by the claim of such a vast undertaking as this, one, which is to give permanent witness to those high hopes and ideals that constitute the security of the home, the state and the nation itself."

In the erection of the structure Frohman, Ross and Little, architects, with Cram and Ferguson as consulting architects, will carry out the original designs.

Copper Market Improving

(By the Associated Press)
TOKIO.—The copper market which had long been suffering from depression shows signs of improvement. The recovery is partly due to the raising of the tariff on the import of copper which went into force earlier in the year. Formerly duty on copper was 1.20 yen per 100 kin. and was raised to 7 yen per 100 kin.

Requirements of a Musician

(By Sax A. Phone)

There is no member of the E. C. S. T. C. band who has all the necessary qualifications of a great musician but the well-informed maintain that scattered promiscuously among individual members of the said organization there may be found simple traits that, taken as a whole, form the well-rounded, tone-bursting, note-smashing valve welder.

The well-informed go further to state that the ambitions will undoubtedly prosper by the emulations of the specifically virtuoso qualities set forth below.

As a fitting introduction into the list of professional traits, the well-informed specifically points out the performances and rhythmic renditions of the modest Caruso-like base drummer; next they profess to maintain that the belated throbbing of the embouchure of our chubby, crimson-countenanced peck hornists.

They mention also the chroic tremors of our most artistic cornetist and further comments on the wry-faced band critic, who professes to preform on the cornet-piston. In addition they call attention to the technique of the remote pair in the same section.

Now in our meditation as quite reigns supreme, faintly our ears apprehend the soft melodious tones of our bell-cracking slide trombonist.

"Die-de-di-didi"

Business men left their counters, bakers left their sufferers with lather burial, pedestrians checked their gate and motorists moored their cars to the curbing.

Something new had made its appearance—in the form of a woman and men have always been excited over such things since memory runneth not.

The day was cold and winds cruel as the circled the corners and she strode up the streets with child's hose on, that bare struck above the ankle.

Men shivered in the warm corners but ah—the mystery, she smiled and passed on in perfect comfort.

Few knew that she wore "flesh colored" beneath this newest fad.

"Every day in every way, I'm getting thinner and thinner," so sayth the Ada college coeds, who romp the meadows of the surrounding country in obedience to one little Frenchman, Dr. Cone.

She never thinks, the girl that takes all this long hikes, that when she consumes for lunch a thick beef sandwich in gravy, a huge piece of butterscotch pie and drinks hot chocolate with whipped cream swimming around the top, that Dr. Cone might be wrong.

ARITHMETIC FIGURED IN BOYS DAIRYING STUDY

(By the Associated Press)

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—Boy inmates at Bellefontaine Farm, the municipal industrial school, who are studying dairy farming are taught arithmetic by milking cows.

Instead of problems about discounts and invoices, the boys are required to figure in detail the amount of money earned by each cow in his care. The cost of grains, silage, hay and beet pulp which he has fed the cow is balanced against the value at wholesale prices of the milk, which each animal produces.
